How to use these notes

These notes cover two statutes that come up repeatedly in the legal / regulatory section of PSU general-insurer promotion exams:

- Part A — Consumer Protection Act, 2019 (CPA 2019): the definition of "consumer", the key changes over the 1986 Act, and the pecuniary jurisdiction / limitation / appeal framework of the three-tier Consumer Commissions.
- Part B — Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, Section 147: requirements of a motor third-party policy and limits of liability, with the pre-2019 and post-2019 (Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 2019) text compared side by side.

Each section ends with a Key figures box. A one-page Quick revision list closes the notes.

PART A — CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT, 2019

1. Background

The Consumer Protection Act, 2019 ("the New Act") replaced the Consumer Protection Act, 1986. It retains the three-tier redressal structure (District → State → National) but modernises the law for e-commerce, creates a central regulator (the CCPA), introduces product liability, tightens control over misleading advertisements, and adds mediation as a built-in dispute-resolution route.

For an insurer, the Act matters because an insurance policy is a service and the policyholder (or beneficiary) is a consumer. Deficiency in service — delayed or wrongly repudiated claims — is the typical complaint an insurer faces before a Consumer Commission.

> Key figures — Section 1 - New Act: Consumer Protection Act, 2019; replaced the 1986 Act. - Three-tier forum: District Commission → State Commission → National Commission (NCDRC), with further appeal to the Supreme Court.

2. Who is a "consumer" — Section 2(7)

Section 2(7) defines a consumer as any person who—

(i) Goods: buys any goods for a consideration that has been paid, promised, partly paid and partly promised, or under any system of deferred payment. The definition also includes any user of such goods other than the buyer, provided the use is with the buyer's approval. Exclusion: a person who obtains goods for resale or for any commercial purpose is not a consumer.

(ii) Services: hires or avails of any services for a consideration (paid / promised / partly paid / deferred payment). It also includes any beneficiary of such services other than the person who hired them, where the services are availed with that person's approval.

Explanation to sub-clause (i) — "commercial purpose": it does not include use by a consumer of goods bought and used exclusively for earning his livelihood by means of self-employment. (So a self-employed taxi driver buying one car is still a consumer; a fleet operator buying ten is not.)

Points to remember

- Consideration need not be fully paid — a promise to pay or a deferred payment arrangement is enough.
- Both the buyer/hirer and the approved user/beneficiary qualify. In insurance, this is why a nominee or legal heir can file a complaint on a policy taken by the deceased.
- The commercial-purpose exclusion applies in terms to goods; the self-employment carve-out preserves consumer status for small livelihood purchases.

> Key figures — Section 2 - Definition section: s.2(7). - Two limbs: (i) goods, (ii) services. - Excluded: goods for resale / commercial purpose; carve-out for self-employment livelihood use.

3. Key highlights of the 2019 Act

3.1 E-commerce transactions are covered

The definition of "consumer" was widened to include a person who buys goods offline or online, through electronic means, teleshopping, direct selling or multi-level marketing. The 1986 Act did not specifically cover e-commerce; the New Act closes this gap.

3.2 E-filing of complaints and place of filing

- A consumer may file the complaint with the jurisdictional Commission at the place of residence or work of the consumer — not only at the place of purchase or the seller's registered office, as was the earlier practice.
- Enabling provisions allow complaints to be filed electronically and parties to be heard / examined by video-conferencing.

- Objective: procedural ease; reduce inconvenience and harassment to consumers.

3.3 Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA)

- A new regulatory authority with wide enforcement powers.
- Has an investigation wing headed by a Director-General, which may inquire into or investigate violations of consumer law.
- Powers include: suo-motu action, recall of products, ordering reimbursement of the price of goods/services, cancellation of licences, and filing class-action suits where a complaint affects more than one individual.

3.4 Product liability and penal consequences

- The concept of product liability is introduced. A claim for compensation can be brought against the product manufacturer, the product service provider and the product seller.
- "Product seller" includes anyone involved in placing the product for a commercial purpose — so e-commerce platforms are covered. The defence that a platform is merely a "platform" or "aggregator" is not accepted.
- Manufacturers carry the greatest exposure: they are liable in a product-liability action even if they prove they were not negligent or fraudulent in making an express warranty.
- Exceptions exist: for example, a product seller is not liable where the product was misused, altered or modified.

3.5 Unfair trade practices — broadened

The New Act gives a specific, broad definition of unfair trade practice. It now expressly includes sharing of personal information given by the consumer in confidence, unless the disclosure is made under the provisions of any other law.

3.6 Misleading advertisements — penalties on manufacturers and endorsers

Offence	Penalty on manufacturer / endorser	Imprisonment
First false / misleading advertisement	up to ₹10,00,000 (₹10 lakh)	up to 2 years
Subsequent offence	up to ₹50,00,000 (₹50 lakh)	up to 5 years

- The CCPA may also prohibit the endorser from endorsing that product/service for up to 1 year; for every subsequent offence, up to 3 years.
- Why endorsers? Consumers have repeatedly been misled by celebrity brand ambassadors. The Act therefore places an onus on the endorser to exercise due diligence and verify the claims made in the advertisement in order to refute liability.

3.7 Alternate dispute resolution — mediation

The Act provides for mediation as an ADR mechanism. Aim: simpler and quicker adjudication, speedier resolution, and reduced pressure on consumer courts already burdened with pending cases.

> Key figures — Section 3 - CCPA investigation wing headed by a Director-General. - Class action possible where complaint affects more than 1 individual. - Misleading ads: ₹10 lakh / 2 years (first); ₹50 lakh / 5 years (subsequent). - Endorser ban: 1 year (first); up to 3 years (subsequent). - Product liability chain: manufacturer → service provider → seller; e-commerce platforms are "sellers".

4. Pecuniary jurisdiction, limitation and appeals — the master table

Ten Crores) [Section 58(1)(a)(ii)]	2 years from cause of action, with power of NCDRC to condone delay. [Section 69] Reply to be filed within 30 days, extendable by another 15 days [Section 59 read with Sections 38(2)(a) & 38(3)(a)]
NCDRC	Appeal against the order of State Commission passed while adjudicating consumer complaints [Section 51(1)]	30 days, with power of NCDRC to condone delay. [Section 51(1)]
NCDRC	Second Appeal against the order of State Commission passed while adjudicating	30 days.

Commission / Court	Remedy	Limitation
	appeals, if it involves a substantial question of law [Section 51(2)]	Note: limitation is not specifically provided in the Act for this provision, but it should be read with the 30-day period for appeal in Section 51(1). Even otherwise, a 30-day period applies under Regulation 14(1)(iv) of the 2020 Regulations.
NCDRC	Review [Section 60]	30 days [Section 60 read with Regulation 14(1)(iii) of the 2020 Regulations]
NCDRC	Revision [Section 58(b)]	90 days [Regulation 14(1)(i) of the 2020 Regulations]
NCDRC	Appeal against the State Commission's order passed under Section 72 for non-compliance of an order [Section 73(1)(b)]	30 days, with power of NCDRC to condone delay. [Section 73(3)]
Supreme Court	Appeal against the order of National Commission passed while adjudicating consumer complaints [Section 51]	30 days, with power to condone delay. [Section 51]
Supreme Court	Appeal against the National Commission's order passed under Section 72 for non-compliance of an order [Section 73(1)(c)]	30 days, with power of Supreme Court to condone delay. [Section 73(c)]

Reading note: the source material cites the NCDRC non-compliance appeal as "Section 73(1)(3)" and, in the Supreme Court row, refers to "power of NCDRC to condone delay"; these are evidently slips for Section 73(1)(b) and the Supreme Court's power respectively.

Note (2025–26): The monetary limits in this table (₹50 lakh / ₹2 crore) are those fixed by the Consumer Protection (Jurisdiction of the District Commission, the State Commission and the National Commission) Rules, 2021. The bare text of the 2019 Act originally provided ₹1 crore / ₹10 crore for the District/State thresholds; the 2021 Rules reduced them to the figures above, and jurisdiction is now based on the value of the consideration paid, not the compensation claimed. The ₹10-crore figure for unfair contracts remains as in the Act.

4.1 How to read the table — the pattern

- Original complaint: limitation is always 2 years from cause of action, at every level; each Commission can condone delay (s.69). Opposite party's reply: 30 days + 15 days extension.
- Appeal from District to State: 45 days (s.41) — the only 45-day figure in the table.
- All other appeals (State → NCDRC, NCDRC → Supreme Court, non-compliance appeals under s.73): 30 days.
- Review at any level: 30 days (Regulation 14(1)(iii)).
- Revision (State: s.47(1)(b); NCDRC: s.58(b)): 90 days (Regulation 14(1)(i)).
- Second appeal to NCDRC (s.51(2)) lies only on a substantial question of law; 30 days.
- Non-compliance of a Commission's order is dealt with under s.72; appeals against s.72 orders go one level up under s.73.

PART B — MOTOR VEHICLES ACT, 1988 — SECTION 147

5. Context

Section 147 sits in Chapter XI of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 (Insurance of Motor Vehicles against Third Party Risks). It lays down what a policy must contain to satisfy the compulsory-insurance requirement, and the limits of liability an insurer must cover. The section was substantially rewritten by the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 2019. Exams test both versions, and especially the differences.

Note (2025–26): The amended Section 147 came into force on 1 September 2019. The amended sub-section (2) led to the Motor Vehicles (Third Party Insurance Base Premium and Liability) Rules, 2022, under which the Central Government (MoRTH) — not IRDAI alone — now notifies motor TP premium rates.

6. Section 147(1) — What a compliant policy must be

A policy of insurance complies with the Chapter only if it—

(a) is issued by an authorised insurer; and

(b) insures the person or classes of persons specified in the policy, to the extent specified in sub-section (2)—

Clause	Pre-2019 text	Post-2019 (amended) text
(b)(i)	against any liability incurred in respect of death of or bodily injury to any person, including owner of the goods or his authorised representative carried in the vehicle, or damage to any property of a third party, caused by or arising out of the use of the vehicle in a public place	Same substance: death / bodily injury to any person including owner of goods or his authorised representative carried in the motor vehicle, or damage to property of a third party, caused by or arising out of use of the motor vehicle in a public place
(b)(ii)	against death of or bodily injury to any passenger of a public service vehicle caused by or arising out of use of the vehicle in a public place	against death of or bodily injury to any passenger of a transport vehicle, except gratuitous passengers of a goods vehicle, caused by or arising out of use of the motor vehicle in a public place

What changed in (b)(ii)

- "Public service vehicle" → "transport vehicle" (a wider term covering goods carriages as well as passenger vehicles).
- Express exclusion of gratuitous passengers of a goods vehicle — i.e. persons carried free of charge in a goods carriage are not compulsorily covered as "passengers" under the Act policy.
- Owner of goods / his authorised representative carried in the vehicle remain covered under (b)(i).

The proviso — what a policy is NOT required to cover (pre-2019 text)

A policy need not cover—

(i) liability for the death of, or bodily injury to, an employee of the insured arising out of and in the course of employment — other than liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 — where the employee is: - (a) engaged in driving the vehicle; or - (b) in a public service vehicle, engaged as a conductor or in examining tickets; or - (c) in a goods carriage, being carried in the vehicle;

(ii) any contractual liability.

So: the Act policy must cover the insured's liability to such employees only to the extent of the Workmen's Compensation Act liability; anything beyond that (and any contractual liability) is outside the compulsory cover and is handled through the IMT endorsements / extra premium.

Note (2025–26): The Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 is now titled the Employee's Compensation Act, 1923 (renamed in 2009). The proviso survives in the amended section, with the reference updated accordingly.

Explanation to s.147(1) — "public place" deeming rule

Death, bodily injury or property damage of a third party is deemed to have been caused by or arisen out of the use of a vehicle in a public place even if the victim or the property was not in a public place at the time of the accident — provided the act or omission that led to the accident occurred in a public place. (Both versions contain this Explanation; the amended text says "clarified" instead of "declared".)

Example: a truck on a public road loses control and crashes into a shop inside private premises. The shopkeeper's injury is covered because the negligent act occurred on the public road.

> Key figures — Section 6 - Two conditions: authorised insurer + cover to the extent of s.147(2). - (b)(i): death / bodily injury to any person incl. owner of goods or his authorised representative; TP property damage. - (b)(ii) old: passengers of a public service vehicle; new: passengers of a transport vehicle, excluding gratuitous passengers of a goods vehicle. - Proviso: employees (driver / conductor / ticket examiner / person carried in goods carriage) only to WC Act extent; no contractual liability.

7. Section 147(2) — Limits of liability

Pre-2019 text

Subject to the proviso to sub-section (1), the policy shall cover any liability incurred in respect of any accident up to the following limits: - (a) save as provided in clause (b), the amount of liability incurred — i.e. unlimited for death / bodily injury; - (b) in respect of damage to property of a third party, a limit of ₹6,000.

Proviso: any policy issued with limited liability and in force immediately before commencement of the Act continued to be effective for four months after commencement or until expiry of the policy, whichever is earlier.

Post-2019 (amended) text

Notwithstanding anything in any other law, for third-party insurance relating to death of a person or grievous hurt to a person, the Central Government shall prescribe a base premium and the liability of an insurer in relation to such premium, for a policy under sub-section (1), in consultation with the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority (IRDAI).

Comparison

Point	Pre-2019	Post-2019
Death / bodily injury	Amount of liability incurred (unlimited)	Base premium and insurer's liability to be prescribed by Central Government in consultation with IRDAI (for death / grievous hurt)
TP property damage	Statutory limit ₹6,000	No statutory figure in s.147(2)
Transitional proviso	4 months / expiry, whichever earlier	Separate saving in new s.147(4) (see §8)

Note (2025–26): In practice the Act-only TPPD limit of ₹6,000 is what the "Act liability" policy provides; standard motor policies cover TPPD up to ₹7.5 lakh (with an option to restrict to the Act limit at a premium discount) under the India Motor Tariff / IRDAI-notified wordings.

> Key figures — Section 7 - Old s.147(2)(b): TP property damage limit ₹6,000. - Old transitional proviso: 4 months or expiry, whichever earlier. - New s.147(2): base premium + liability prescribed by Central Government in consultation with IRDAI, for death / grievous hurt.

8. Sections 147(3) to 147(6) — Certificate, saving, cover note, indemnity

8.1 Certificate of insurance — s.147(3) (both versions)

A policy is of no effect for the purposes of the Chapter unless and until the insurer issues, in favour of the person effecting the policy, a certificate of insurance in the prescribed form, containing the prescribed particulars of any condition subject to which the policy is issued and other prescribed matters. Different forms, particulars and matters may be prescribed for different cases.

Exam angle: the certificate — not the policy document — is the statutory proof of insurance under the MV Act.

8.2 Saving for pre-amendment policies — new s.147(4)

Inserted by the 2019 Amendment: a policy issued before the commencement of the Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 2019 continues on its existing terms under the contract, and the Act applies as if it had not been amended. (This replaces the old 4-month transitional proviso to s.147(2).)

8.3 Cover note not followed by a policy — old s.147(4) / new s.147(5)

Where a cover note issued under the Chapter (or the rules/regulations made under it) is not followed by a policy within the prescribed / specified time, the insurer must, within seven days of the expiry of the cover note's validity, notify the fact to the registering authority (in whose records the vehicle is registered) or such other authority as the State Government may prescribe.

Minor wording change: the amended text refers to "rules or regulations" and the "specified" (rather than "prescribed") time.

8.4 Insurer's statutory duty to indemnify — old s.147(5) / new s.147(6)

Notwithstanding anything in any (other) law, an insurer issuing a policy under this section is liable to indemnify the person or classes of persons specified in the policy in respect of any liability the policy purports to cover for those persons.

Significance: this is the provision that binds the insurer directly to the cover it has written, and underpins the insurer's obligation to satisfy awards (read with s.149).

8.5 Renumbering summary

Subject	Old number	New number (post-2019)
Requirements of policy	147(1)	147(1)
Limits of liability	147(2)	147(2) (rewritten)
Certificate of insurance	147(3)	147(3)
Saving of pre-amendment policies	—	147(4) (new)
Cover note not followed by policy — 7-day notice	147(4)	147(5)
Insurer liable to indemnify	147(5)	147(6)

> Key figures — Section 8 - Certificate of insurance is mandatory — policy is of no effect without it. - Cover note lapse: insurer to notify registering authority within 7 days of expiry. - Pre-2019 policies: continue on existing terms (new s.147(4)). - Old 147(4)→new 147(5); old 147(5)→new 147(6).
